DEMONSTRATION INTENDED TO GO TO CITY HALL BROKEN UP.

BIG PROCESSION DISBANDED

Looked Like Serious Trouble Out
Police, Handled Crowds With Much Violence.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Philadelphia, Pa., March 10.—What was to have been a march of triumph to the city hall at Penn Square this afternoon, by the strikers and the strike sympathizers, was broken up by the police through strenuous methods.

Looked Serious.

For a time the mob looked to be a serious menace to the peace of the city and but for the prompt work of the police in driving the mob back with the free use of clubs and threats of shooting they might have overcome the officers and controlled affairs.

Many Are Injured.

During the fighting which for a time was most violent many of the mob were badly injured by the clubs wielded by the police and some of the officers themselves were roughly handled. The long night sticks of the police were freely used.

Refused Meeting.

The authorities refused to grant any permit for the holding of the big union mass meeting arranged for last evening and also prevented other open air gatherings which were being held in different parts of the city.

Not Over.

While the street car company and authorities claim to have matters in hand and assert the back bone of the trouble is over it is certain that the end is not yet in sight and last night's dynamiting of a car showed that violence is to be expected.

Wait the Call.

The militia commanders throughout the state have sent word to the governor of the exact strength of their different commands in case they are needed for active service and members of the adjutant and quartermaster general's staff are in the city to arrange for their care.

Protest in Vain.

The protest of the union leaders to the citizens generally to boycott the cars and all persons patronizing them has thus far been in vain and while but few people ride on the cars through fear the lines are kept open by the company.

Great Cost.

It is estimated that the strike has thus far cost the street car company over a million dollars but the company asserts it will spend as much more and more yet if need be before giving in to the demands of the strikers.

ANOTHER SCANDAL STIRS KANSAS CITY SOCIETY

MRS. "JACK" CUDAHY.

Kansas City, Mo., March 10.—While "Jack" Cudahy will probably not face trial, the case in which the wife of this young millionaire son of the wealthy Omaha packer played the central part, continues to attract much attention.

Jero S. Lillis, president of the Western Exchange bank, while not seriously hurt, is in bad shape and will carry to his grave the knife cuts administered when Cudahy returned home this expected Sunday morning.

Mrs. Cudahy, in an interview today, declared that she and Lillis had been automobiling and had taken dinner at the Baltimore hotel. He had taken her home and she asked him to come into the house. They were seated in the library of the home when her husband, accompanied by his chauffeur, suddenly appeared. They attacked Mr. Lillis, bound and gagged him, and Mr. Cudahy, whom she declares is of a jealous nature, began cutting him with a big butcher knife. Where he got the knife she does not know. Mrs. Cudahy immediately summoned the police, who arrived in time to save Lillis from further punishment.

John Moss, chauffeur, who aided Cudahy, has escaped and cannot be found.

The affray was the culmination of a series of events which have been going on in Kansas City for years. The names of Lillis, the debauched banker, and handsome, dashing, talented Mrs. "Jack" Cudahy have often been associated together.

It is known that the husband at several times became suspicious. Once he ordered Lillis out of his house at the point of a revolver. At another time he is said to have shot at Lillis as they passed upon a country road in automobiles.

A few weeks ago after a return from a week's trip with the "Merry Widow" opera company in Minnesota, Mrs. Cudahy told a reporter that an amateur production of the "Merry Widow" was being planned by members of her social set. She was to be the widow, she said, and Lillis was to be the widow's sweetheart, Prince Danilo. The production was never staged.

TRIBUTE TO FIRST AMERICAN CARDINAL

Eminent Prelates Take Part in Impressive Ceremonials on Centennial
Of McCloskey's Birth

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

New York, March 10.—With many eminent prelates of the Roman Catholic Church in America as active participants or interested spectators in the impressive ceremonies of solemn pontifical mass, which Archbishop Farley was the celebrant, the ten days' observance of the centennial anniversary of the birth of Cardinal McCloskey, the first American member of the Sacred College, was begun in St. Patrick's Cathedral, which had been appropriately decorated for the occasion, was crowded when the services began. Archbishops, bishops and other dignitaries occupied seats in the sanctuary during the mass. Besides the church dignitaries there were also present many laymen of note.

The celebration of the centennial will continue over a period of ten days and will be participated in by more than 1,000,000 Catholics of the church diocese. In addition to the church services the numerous Catholic societies will hold memorial meetings at which addresses will be delivered by prominent speakers.

Cardinal McCloskey, in honor of whose memory the celebration is held, was born in Brooklyn, March 20, 1810. It has been said that the history of his life is the history of the progress of the Roman Catholic Church in New York. He was the first American cardinal, and was invested with the insignia of that high office before the very altar at which he had been ordained a priest and consecrated a bishop.

When he was ten years old his father died. His mother was a woman of ample means and gave her son a good education. He was prepared for college in New York City, and then was graduated from St. Mary's at Emmetsburg, Md. After completing his theological studies he was ordained a priest, Jan. 9, 1834, in the old St. Patrick's Cathedral, in Mott street. For three years thereafter he traveled in Europe. Returning to New York he was appointed pastor of St. Joseph's church, where he remained for seven years. In 1841 he was appointed president of St. John's college at Fordham. Three years later he was consecrated bishop and, became confidant to Bishop Hughes with the right of succession.

In 1847, when the sees of Albany and Buffalo were created, Bishop McCloskey was transferred to the former. He remained bishop of Albany for seventeen years, during which time the growth of the church in the new diocese was very rapid. He built the cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Albany and founded the theological seminary at Troy.

When Archbishop Hughes died, McCloskey became archbishop of New York and was installed Aug. 21, 1864. During the twenty years of his administration he introduced communities of various religious orders, built many fine churches, and such institutions as the founding asylum, the institute for deaf mutes of Fordham, homes for destitute boys and girls, and for aged men and women, and orphan asylums.

Archbishop McCloskey went abroad several times, and was received with distinction in Rome. In 1879 he was created the first American cardinal and on April 27 of that year received the pallium from the hands of Archbishop Hayes of Baltimore. Five years before his death Cardinal McCloskey requested that Bishop Corrigan of Newark be appointed his successor with the right of succession, and Bishop Corrigan subsequently succeeded him.

Cardinal McCloskey was a profound scholar, and had the gift of eloquence. His health was always poor, but through immense sacrifice of comfort he was able to perform the most remarkable. His death occurred in this city Oct. 10, 1885.

Acquires Taste for Raw Seal.
The Rev. S. M. Stewart, who has spent eight years in the extreme north of Ungava—the coast of Labrador—a dreary, frozen wilderness which only communicates with the outer world once in 12 months, says it is often a question of a raw seal fish diet or starvation when he is on his journeys to visit the Eskimos of the different settlements along the coast. Seal is part of his diet, and he says that he quite likes it. It is an acquired taste, he admits, and seems to be something of a cross between cod steak and beef steak, with a dash of rabbit.—Church Family Newspaper.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running nose or throat, and the inflammation spreads to the middle ear, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; this causes out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

LECTURE ON BELOIT STYLE OF BUILDINGS

Prof. Wright of College Discussed Architectural Features Before Club.

[SPECIAL TO THIS GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., March 10.—Prof. T. L. Wright of the college last night gave the lecture before the Six O'Clock club on "Architecture in Beloit." It was ladies' night of the club and the last meeting of the season. In speaking of the buildings of the city he said that the period of construction was apparent to any one who would study the matter. Beloit's buildings differ little from those of other towns in this respect. "In making comparisons of buildings Prof. Wright remarked that the high school at Janesville was a fine piece of architecture, one of the most substantial and attractive in the country. Prof. Wright says that the college chapel is one of the finest buildings in the country from an artistic standpoint and that St. Paul's Episcopal church in Beloit, one of the earliest buildings, is the handsomest piece of church architecture in the land. He made a plea for beautifying premises by gardens.
Tonight the Commercial club will have a lecture on "Boosting the Town" by George Blackstone Irving, an expert.

CHINA'S HISTORY

Today the world watches the east and all eastern news. The great moment in Chinese history has come and all things considered the awakening of China is probably the most important event thus far in the twentieth century. It is a stupendous task to undertake the organization of a new army and navy, to plan for the adoption of a constitution and to cast aside a heavy system of education, which had been in operation 3,000 years, in favor of modern methods. These and other progressive measures call for the highest type of leadership, and that is precisely what China lacks. Never was there a more opportune time for the United States to stretch forth a friendly hand, especially in the matter of education, for we are distressed less than any other foreign nation. It is a mistake to limit our interest in China to commercial relations when there is such a chance to lay broad and strong foundations for a new moral and intellectual life there, through the influence of Christian schools and colleges. Students from these institutions, under the care of various mission boards, are eagerly sought to fill positions as teachers in the government schools. To meet this and similar demands there is imperative and immediate need of a Christian university with the highest standards of scholarship, the largest appliances for investigation and the most modern methods of instruction. Such a university would prove an inestimable boon to China at this turning point of her history. Two members of the faculty of Chicago university, Prof. Ernest de Witt Burton and Prof. Thomas C. Chamberlin, were recently commissioned to make a tour of that great empire for the express purpose of seeing whether those interested in education in both countries could not be of service to one another. A similar movement has started in Oxford and Cambridge, a joint committee of educators and missionaries having been engaged for the last few months in making a thorough investigation of the whole subject. Institutions of the character proposed would not only train up future administrators for China but would serve as models for the native universities. The legacy of a million and a half dollars from John S. Kennedy to Robert College, Constantinople, is a fine example of the estimate which one wise and successful business man put upon the value of a Christian college in Turkey. Given equally adequate provision for the youth of China and most beneficent results would surely follow. From the point of view either of commerce, foreign relations, world economies, racial development, or the kingdom of Christ, the Christian education of China is really the most important question confronting Europe and America today, as it is a question concerning one quarter of the world's population.

THE TIDE TURNS

General Vasquez' decisive victory over the Nicaraguan insurgents put an end to a situation that has long been untenable. As long as popular interest in this country was kept up, the insurgent government of General Estrada stood a fair chance to succeed the Zelaya regime; not so much because Estrada and his followers had the support of American public opinion, as for the presence here of a strong feeling against Zelaya, for whose removal Americans were looking to Estrada's operations. But Zelaya fell before the revolutionary movement. And his successor, Judge Madriz, though at first regarded as Zelaya's tool, and at one time confessedly objectionable to the state department, has not done anything to discredit his administration; while he has to his credit successful operations against the insurgent army, despite the support given General Estrada by a number of free lances mainly of English speech.

To the vanquished insurgents the contest is not yet over. It is grounded in the history of Spanish America that secession is attempted when a victory has become impossible, and in the case of Nicaragua there is this additional consideration that its Caribbean seaboard was for centuries entirely separated from the Pacific and lake region. If it did not share the fate of British Honduras it was due to American rivalry and intervention, which resulted, only a few years ago, in the final surrender of all British claims over the Mosquito coast so long held by English adventurers and at times controlled entirely as a British possession. When, under the late regime, the republic of Nicaragua took formal possession of Greytown and Bluefields, the now province was incorporated under the name of Zelaya, and it is a curious irony of fate that it was precisely this territory bearing his name that finally cost the late director his power and his hour.

General Estrada may entertain the hope of securing the support of the state department for the establishment of a new republic on the Mosquito coast with its capital at Bluefields, or Rama, or Greytown, commanding the entrance of the San Juan river and thereby of the Atlantic end of a possible Nicaragua canal. But is it at all plausible that the process of Panama will find a replica in Nicaragua? There is a great deal to militate against such a course, mainly for the reason that things would not stop there. It is, in effect, difficult to see how a Mosquito coast republic owing its very existence to the United States could help coming entirely under the control of Washington and depending for its growth and defense on the state department; a consolidation of American interests would take place in a matter of course and the republic of "Mosquito" and Panama would doubtless eventually join hands, absorbing Costa Rica. If United States interests in Latin America demand some such arrangement, they only course is one of frank and unreserved cooperation with Mexico.

Mr. Cook's campaign continues to fade for want of the popular demonstration that he is the only one to defeat La Follette. Meanwhile there are many who suggest Hancock be the candidate, but this for the powers that be have denied their recognition.

The movement on foot to erect suitable monuments to the memory of two former chief justices of the State Supreme Court deserves the heartiest support of citizens in all parts of the state. Rock county's share is but $5 and that should be easily raised.

It is said that there are going to be great things doing in the first congressional district when the time comes. Well, this seems to be the talk all over the state—when the time comes.

Carnegie says that Pinchot walks so straight that he leans backward. That was just the trouble. He was so much in the clouds that he did not see what really happened.

The Milwaukee Journal continues its harping upon the subject of the opposition to La Follette, seeks to create the opinion that it is the sincerest reform representative of the state.

The blue Nile and the other Niles are all red now that Roosevelt has appeared. Some of the other minor streams of the world are said to be turning green with envy.

Taggart is now receiving his in the middle west, while Flay Connors had his in the east a few weeks ago. Thus it goes with the democratic political leaders.

certain of reelection in the city is City Treasurer Fathens.

This crusade against long hat pins appears to be taking more definite form and should be encouraged.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By WALT MASON.
(Copyright, 1909, by George Mat. (now Adams).)

All the fiercest walls you hear, walls of discontent, come from men who, through the year, seldom earn a cent. Go wherever loafers rest, friendless and alone, and from every idle breast, there will rise a groan. Of the woes which they stand, they'll give catalogues; they will show you that the land travels to the dogs. They will name a lot of laws that the country needs; they will wall and wag their jaws till your bosom throbs; they will work their jaws and tongue, boasting all the while; they will work their willing tongue—but they won't work their hands. Folks who in the good old way toil with all their might, working at their stumps by day, going home at night, don't have time to wall and whine, nor our downward race, don't have much desire to seek any walling place. Telling on, as best they can, on their little stage, treating fairly every man, earning all their wage, sitting down some honest bones, for the day of ruin—what to them are all the groans, why should they complain? There's a cure for all the ills which too long endure; laws are merely nostrum pills—Work's the safest cure.

Heart to Heart Talks.

(By EDWIN A. NYE.)

DO NOT CROWD.
If you try to get on in the world by pushing some brother to the edge you gain nothing thereby and you injure yourself.

There is plenty of room for all of us. Do not crowd.

When you step to interfere with your competitor you lose just that much time and energy, which you ought to put into your own affairs.

And it is a petty spirit.

There are doctors who go out of their way to criticize other doctors. Lawyers who put in time abusing other lawyers, merchants who denounce the methods of other merchants and even preachers who decry other preachers.

That is a reprehensible thing to do. Besides, it is lost motion.

You know what lost motion is in a machine. The parts are not properly geared or coupled, and, though the motor does its work, the machine does not get results.

There are people like that. They are not rightly coupled in a mental way, and they waste a great deal of motion in attending to other people's business.

Adjust your machinery to the performance of your own personal job. Instead of criticizing your neighbor's machine, oil your own.

Or to change the figure—

You are in the race to win. If you stop to pick flaws with the style of the other runners you are apt to lose a lap. It is better to keep one's eyes on the goal and let the others win if they can.

And—

If the other man does win, take off your hat to him. He is the better man. And, above all, be fair!

Do not try to crowd your competitor off the earth. There is plenty of room for both of you. He has as much right here as you. Stand fast in your place and don't begrudge him standing room.

Do not crowd. Save your vitality to work out your own salvation.

Do not be small or mean or critical or jealous. You cannot afford it.

Your pettiness will be apparent, and it will proclaim your size.

Do not crowd. The earth is big. And life is short.

NO AMUSEMENTS AT WASAU; SCARLET FEVER RULES CITY

All Theatres, Moving Picture Houses and Rinks Closed Until Epidemic is Checked.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

WASAU, Wis., March 10.—All the theatres, moving picture houses and rinks are "dark" here and will remain closed for at least two weeks, or until the scarlet fever abates. The schools are all closed yesterday and most of the teachers went to their homes as this period will take the place of the usual spring vacation. Three new cases were reported yesterday, but no deaths. It is believed the present drastic regulations will tend to improve conditions almost immediately. The quarantine interfered with several sporting events. Meritt and Andigo were to try out for the Lawrence tournament Friday here, but the date is cut out as are all basketball and athletic events. The gym of the Y. M. C. A. is closed, as are all the churches and Sunday schools. Not even a woman's club can meet here now, and even their rehearsals come under the ban.

Modern Wall Papers

It is no longer necessary to select out of date patterns in wall papers, for, we will be glad to suggest many authoritative designs, and our 1910 selections will supply many decorations to make the modern Home Beautiful.

When patterns and colors are used inappropriately they entirely lose their value. We extend the benefit of our experience in aiding our patrons to overcome any of these errors, and from the hundreds of papers secured, new for this season every taste can be satisfied.

Many of the new ideas, not shown elsewhere, will be found here, and we feel that every woman who looks over our patterns will be pleasantly surprised at the great variety, the charming effects secured, and the notable lowness of our prices.

Daily Dental Experiences

Yesterday was not an unusual day with me, yet it was remarkably unusual and satisfactory to a lot of suffering people who sought my aid in their need.

The first thing in the morning I extracted a badly broken down tooth. The patient said:

"It was the easiest job he ever had done."

Next was an extraction for a third molar patient.

Results—no pain. No Pain.

And so on, all day.

Two teeth for another patient who was so gratified at the actual absence of all pain that she said:

"Why, Dr. Richards, you are a prince of a dentist."

Then I came a gang of boys to witness the fun of one of their number having his tooth drawn.

Now let me tell you, you can't fool a boy. If it hurts, he will tell you so mighty quick.

His tooth came hard, and I asked him if it hurt.

He said it didn't.

On the way home, I passed this same bunch of boys with him in the center telling his experience, and I heard him say again that it didn't hurt him a bit.

He manfully stood by his statement although the other boys gaped him.

They were like some older folks. They wouldn't believe it.

The only way to be convinced that I can really take out your teeth without hurting you is to give me a chance to prove it in your own mouth.

LEONARD LANNIGAN IN TROUBLE AGAIN

Sent to Jail for 30 Days for Stealing $13 at D. D. Brown's Saloon in Edgerton.

"In fixing the sentence I'll say that it's lucky for you that the district attorney did not think the evidence warranted a charge of burglary," said Judge Elford this morning after imposing a fine of $30 and costs amounting to $11.20, with the alternative of 30 days in jail on Leonard Lannigan. "You've been convicted of petit larceny three times by this court and if you do not cut out the drink and go to work you will surely land in state's prison." Lannigan stole $12 and several plates of whiskey in the saloon of D. D. Brown in Edgerton on the night of March 2. According to his version of the affair he wandered into the saloon while intoxicated, went to sleep over a table in a back room; woke up to find everybody gone and himself locked in the place; and just helped himself to whatever was lying loose that appealed to his fancy. He was examined before Justice H. H. Smith and bound over to the municipal court for trial. This morning he entered a plea of guilty to the charge. Being unable to pay the fine and costs, he will remain in the county jail for awhile.

COLLEGIATE SQUAD THE NEXT OPPONENTS

Basketball Teams Made Up of University Players Will Meet "Cardinals" Here Tomorrow Night.

On next Friday evening the "Cardinals" will meet a strong basketball organization when they play the "College" of Madison, here at the rink. While the team is not a university team, it is understood that the players are all men who have played on teams at the state institution. The five is a strong one and it is expected that the game will be equally as close as the contest with the "Wagon-Makers." The Capital City squad play under the intercollegiate rules, but play a clean game and some of the rough work that was conspicuous in former matches will not be exhibited. The Madison bunch have speed and have the advantage of having been instructed in the fine points of the game by a university coach, so that there are few teams their equal to them. This morning of the squad, it is said, played with the freshmen class basketball five, which was disbanded at the close of the class games.

ALBERT DORSEY DRIVEN OUT OF CITY AGAIN

Under Suspended Sentence of 30 Days in Jail—Was Intoxicated and Begging on Streets.

Albert Dorsey, who just completed a jail sentence, following almost immediately upon his return from the state penitentiary, was intoxicated again last evening and when Officers Morrissey and Sam Brown learned that he had been begging alms from pedestrians in the neighborhood of the intersection station on the plea that he was starving, they set out to find and catch him. But Dorsey saw them coming and was not landed until much later in the evening. In municipal court this morning he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness and implored the court to give him just one chance to get out of town and stay out for a year. He said he would be on his way to Madison before twelve o'clock if given the opportunity. Judge Elford levied a fine and costs of $11 with the alternative of 30 days in jail and turned the commitment over to Chief Appley with instructions to imprison the offender if he should be found in Janesville any time after the noon hour.

Mike O'Gar was unable to pay a fine and costs amounting to $8 and went to the Hotel Scheible for fifteen days.

A CORSET DEMONSTRATION.

Miss McDowell who is conducting the demonstration of the Lion Tons, the Royal Worcester and Adagio corsets covers a variety of territory. For instance: In her last trip to Janesville she has had to travel all the way from Winnipeg, a distance of about 1000 miles. She tells how close by the custom officials watch all people leaving Canada, and of the difficulty in getting her trunks over the border into the United States, while going into Canada there was no difficulty at all. Miss McDowell is indeed a pleasant lady to meet and she is always glad to talk interestingly upon the subject of corsets. This week she is here on an excellent opportunity is afforded to secure a perfect fit and to get the corset best suited for your form. The demonstration lasts this week only.

BOXERS SIGNED FOR COMING EXHIBITION

Janesville Athletic Club Completes Preparations for Good Sparring Entertainment.

Some classy boxers have been secured by the Janesville Athletic club to appear at the second of this season's boxing entertainments which will be held at the rink on the evening of March 14. Although none of the contestants are from this city, several of them have appeared here before and have made more than favorable impressions.

"Young" O'Leary of Milwaukee, who sparred "Kid" Cox to a standstill in their last meeting at the rink, will give eight rounds with Gotsch of Chicago. Those who watched O'Leary perform here against Cox think that he has a great chance of becoming a top-notch fighter and if Welch lives up to his reputation, the go should be a high class wind-up. The boys will weigh in at 116.

In the semi-wind-up, E. Procknow of Milwaukee has been matched with Nels Larson of Evansville. Both have somewhat of a reputation as fast waterweights. In the preliminary, Red Ryan of Rockford will meet Jerry Nelson of Milwaukee and Emmett Driscow of Milwaukee will exchange punches with "Young" Armstrong of Chicago. Little is known of the Chicago boy, but both Driscow and Nelson appeared here on Feb. 15 and scored a big hit. "Red" Ryan of Rockford has acquitted himself well in numerous matches throughout this section of the country and will give Nelson a warm argument.

As in the past, the show will be a clean-pure exhibition of scientific boxing and no decisions will be given.

TO DISSOLVE "STANDARD OIL"

STANDARD OIL COMPANY'S RIGHT TO DO BUSINESS IS ATTACKED.

GOVERNMENT FILES BRIEF

Immediate Dissolution of Concern—Because of Alleged Violations of Sherman Act is Requested—Case to Open Monday.

Washington, Mar. 10.—With the declaration that "either the Sherman act should be repealed or it should be enforced in a manner to make the people respect it," the immediate dissolution of the Standard Oil corporation because of its alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law is requested in a brief filed in the United States supreme court by the department of justice. The brief, which is an answer to a brief filed by the Standard Oil, contains more than 1,000 pages and will form the basis of the argument with which the government next Monday will attack the right of the trust to do business in this country.

The brief will be the foundation of the government's oral argument at the hearing of the case by the supreme court next Monday.

One of the two volumes of the brief is devoted to an analysis of testimony taken in the circuit court of the United States for the eastern district of Missouri, which decreed that "Standard Oil" be dissolved. It represents years of governmental investigation of the oil business.

Standard Crushes Competition.
The government declares this shows rebates and discriminatory rates received by the Standard Oil combination, not only during its formative period, but during the last ten years, "whereby the Standard was enabled to bring a large part of the concerns into the combination and to crush out and eliminate from the field of competition the principal part of the balance."

It is claimed by the government that it shows "a system of lowering prices, where competitors are doing business, below the cost of the product, while keeping up or raising the prices in other parts of the country until the competitor is either eliminated or his business brought within a compass so that the Standard Oil Company can control it; of obtaining secret information as to competitive business, largely through bribing railway employees, and using that secret information to procure countervailing orders of independent agents and to facilitate their system of price cutting and oppression; of the use of so-called bogus independent companies, whose operations are predatory and oppressive, principally used to drive out competitors, and various other means."

Act Should Be Enforced.

"We do not wish to be understood as discouraging enterprise," says the government, "or as taking a position against legitimate competition, but if the Sherman act means anything in this country, it means a monopoly acquired by such methods of competition as this. Unless it is enforced, the small corporation or individual who wishes to engage in business will have absolutely no opportunity at all."

In the second volume is a so-called summary of facts and a brief of the law.

Here, too, repeated statements are made as to the attitude of the government toward organized business. It is urged that if the intent is clear to monopolize any part of the commerce of the United States, the scheme is valid in whatever form the action is taken.

The officer finally got hold of the pistol and shot the negro several times.

The negro lay on the porch of his home and a mob gathered and dragged him into the street and swung him up to a telephone pole.

RACE WAR FEARED AT KANSAS CITY, KANSAS

Negro Assaults White Woman—Rumored Blacks Well Armed—Serious Trouble Anticipated.

Kansas City, Kan., Mar. 10.—In an effort to prevent a demonstration against the negroes of this city, as a result of the assault upon Miss Cora Downs, in a lonely suburb, the police dispersed all gatherings in the streets and places where men are prone to congregate.

Feeling is running high among the whites, and it is feared the police will not be able to cope with the situation if the fiend is captured soon.

The rumor is being spread that, following the outrage of a white woman in this city several weeks ago by two negroes, who were hanged for the crime, the negroes of the two cities have secreted a large number of arms and are prepared to defend themselves in case of race rioting. This rumor, which is founded upon no less authority than the report of a large department store that 80 per cent. of its supply of negroes, is fanning the feeling against the race, and serious trouble is anticipated.

ROCKEFELLER'S PLAN ASSAILED.

Letter to Senator Declares Fund Will Escape Inheritance Tax.

New York, Mar. 10.—When John D. Rockefeller announced a week ago his plan to devote his vast fortune to the good of mankind through the Rockefeller foundation, Standard Oil stock was selling at $618 a share. Since then the stock has been steadily rising. In one day it advanced 15 points, touching $660, a total advance in a week of $42 a share.

George W. Du Cane, an architect of Upper Montclair, N. J., called attention to it in a circular letter addressed to the senior senator from each state in the United States.

Mr. Du Cane makes it clear that if the Chandler bill, granting a federal charter to the Rockefeller foundation, passes, neither the state nor the United States can collect the collateral inheritance tax. Thus the entire Rockefeller fortune would be free from the obligations to which great wealth is bound by law as death passes it from hand to hand.

JANESVILLE'S PART
IN THE OLEO GAMEArrest of Graham, the Oleo Moonshiner, Here in November Has Bearing on Present Chicago Inquiry.

It was through the agency of the Janesville police, who arrested a man who gave his name as A. E. Graham and was selling colored oleomargarine as butter, that the present investigation in Chicago has been brought about. In a confession made by Edward Kilmia, who was Graham's confederate, now in jail in Milwaukee, it appears that it was through Graham's arrest here that the government officers got the first inkling of the gigantic swindle that was being carried out under their noses. In the Milwaukee jail where Kilmia now is he has made a confession which will aid the government officers materially. Not only that, but he states he will go to Chicago to tell what he knows.

Tells His Story
Kilmia's allegations are backed up by associates in the moonshining business and by the federal authorities at Milwaukee. His operations in Chicago and Milwaukee are alleged to have extended over a period of several years. His testimony before the federal grand jury in Chicago will be given along with that by William Broadwell, Samuel Dresbach, and Daniel Herzig.

District Attorney Edwin W. Sims and Assistant District Attorney Robert W. Childs of Chicago have been informed of Kilmia's confession and they are expected to make use of it as several federal investigators who inquired into Milwaukee oleo operations.

Will Add to Confession
"I have made my confession, but that is not all," said Kilmia in the county jail at Milwaukee. "When the grand jury investigation begins in Chicago, I'll be there and I'll tell a lot more than is in my confession. I never have had any connection with the Broadwell gang, and don't know what they know. All I know about Broadwell is he had a trust that I couldn't break in on in Chicago, and that's why the representatives of manufacturers wouldn't let me go into business in Milwaukee. When I talk to the grand jury they'll find out a few things about one man who is one of the biggest crooks in the business, and also a few things about another 'individual'."

With Graham
Kilmia was arrested in Milwaukee last November, a short time after an associate, E. A. Graham, had been taken into custody at Janesville, Wis. He and Graham operated at Milwaukee and through the state of Wisconsin under the business name of the "Jerry and Lily Creamery Butter Company," selling their colored oleomargarine as creamy butter. A few weeks before the arrest of the two, Kilmia and Graham held a conference with oleomargarine manufacturers' representatives in Chicago.

Conferred with Oleo Makers
"I first conferred with one firm," declared Kilmia, and then he went into the details of a story embodied in his confession—a story backed up by the statements of Revenue Agent J. B. McCoy and other federal authorities at Milwaukee. "I was advised to come to Milwaukee and work Wisconsin, because there were too many moonshiners in Chicago already. I said I did not intend getting a license. That seemed to be satisfactory. Consequently I came to Milwaukee and started up with Graham. Graham went through the state and did business while I staid in Milwaukee."

"I conducted the business here under different assumed names—Dawson, Brown, etc.—and one Chicago concern knew about it. It always sent the bills of lading for the shipments, which were made by way of the Goodrich Transportation company, to me under cover of an envelope addressed 'J. L. Brown.' Once when a shipment came in I forgot what name I had ordered the goods under and had to call up the manufacturers to find out."

Conceded by Manufacturer's Agent
"One manufacturer's agent went over the business with me here and gave me advice about how to conduct it. He advised me to use a cheap grade of butter to mix with the oleo, saying he considered this the best way to manipulate. The packages we sent out were labeled butter and with that stamp the government agents couldn't get into them."

"When Graham had been arrested at Janesville I reshipped a large quantity of oleo on hand back to one firm—thirteen tubs I think it was—and after explaining I got my money back for it."

Kilmia's arrest followed Graham's. Graham now is serving an eighteen months' sentence, upon a plea of guilty, in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth. When Kilmia had been taken into custody he made his confession, and Daddo-Moxley's son-in-law—was a witness. Daddo testified he did not know Kilmia and had had no dealing with him.

"I consider the information of Kilmia of great value in this case," said District Attorney Sims when the Milwaukee moonshiner's story had been reported to him. "He is a man we shall want in the case here."

Trustee Action

Papers have been filed in the office of the clerk of the Green county circuit court in the action entitled, McCalla J. Pike vs. J. H. Trout, the case to come up for trial at the March term, which convenes on Monday, March 23. Numerous allegations set forth in the complaint are denied in the defendant's answer. A substantial difference of opinion in the accounts of the trustee, covering a period of twenty-three years, and in that of the complaint was found. Even Evans of Baraboo and John M. Olin of Madison will appear as attorneys for Mrs. Pike and A. S. Douglas and M. G. Jeffries of Janesville will represent the defendant.

Change Fair Date?
A change is contemplated in the date of the Green county fair, which if it goes into effect will bring the fair a week later than formerly, fixing the date from the week beginning September 7, to the week beginning September 14. The fair may enter the Libertyville and Elkhorn circuit, and if it does will be able to secure a much better field of horses than if it took chances with the Northwestern Wisconsin race circuit. The association is also considering an alfalfa show, the same that has been made in the past at Tampa, Fla., as the special attraction for the fair this year.

Begin Fight on the Saloons in Monroe
Captain Hoofstetter of Sterling, Ill., Has Opened No-License Campaign.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Monroe, Wis., March 10.—Capt. J. H. Hoofstetter of Sterling, Ill., who is here in the interests of temperance work, opened his meetings in the Methodist church, greeted by a good-sized and enthusiastic audience. He has fired his first gun in this great campaign against the liquor traffic, and stated that he was going to "turn Monroe upside down and inside out," and declared that he had come to banish the saloons from the city. Capt. Hoofstetter was here thirty-three years ago, his visit resulting in the closing of all saloons in the city. He invites every saloon man and bartender here to attend his meetings, and says he will offend no one and that they can expect gentlemanly treatment. Petitions are being circulated asking for a vote on the no-license question this spring, lacking but a short number of names required by law.

GIVES GOOD ADVICE ON PROPER PRUNING
Geo. J. Kellogg Has Written Letter to Gazette Telling What Trees Not to Be Cut.

Editor Gazette:
Now is the time to prune every thing but box elder and the maples; thin out the limbs in June. The old apple trees prune severely; thin out the tops to let in the sun. Head back long branches and cut out everything that crosses. Paint all wounds with any kind of paint. Don't leave stubs and don't cut too close. A little common sense will win your work.
Don't continue the pruning after the sap starts, and anything left undone finish the 15th of June. Prune a little every year. When you set out a tree cut out every crook. Have one central trunk with side branches eight inches apart, put on like your thumb, then those limbs will hold a barrel of apples and not split down. Cherry trees need little or no pruning.

LOCALS WON EASILY FROM OCONTO SQUAD
High School Basketball Team Victorious in First Game at Tournament

The Janesville high school basketball team, playing at the tournament in Madison, last evening won an easy victory over the Oconto high school in their first game at the tourney, by the score of 61 to 12. The Oconto squad was entirely superior to the Janesville team and had it over their opponents throughout the match. The locals showed splendid team work and excellent passing work, together with accurate basket-throwing. Tommings was the star Janesville player, ending the ball ten times in the game. Murphy, captain of the team, was a close second with nine baskets. From the field and the other players while they did not make as many scores did very well. The game was clean and the spectacular floor work of the Oconto or City quintet was very interesting to witness.

Tonight the locals will play either the Menomonee, La Crosse or Appleton five. Scores made by other teams yesterday were: Menomonee, 25; Wausau, 11; Appleton, 42; Wausau, 19; La Crosse, 25; Superior, 19.

BANANAS IN SEVERE BRIGHT'S DISEASE
In Bright's disease and other affections of the kidneys it is important to relieve the kidneys of as much work as possible. In addition to keeping the skin in good working condition, meat, cheese, potatoes and white bread should be eliminated from the diet. In severe cases, bananas and cream may be taken as an exclusive diet, with occasional variations. This reduces the work of the kidneys to a minimum, as analysis shows, the percentage of albumen in the food being small and that easily and completely assimilated. Taking no salt nor other irritating food, much less water is required, so that altogether the work of elimination by the kidneys is reduced by half.

MONUMENTS PLANNED FOR TWO JUSTICES
Judge Marshall of the State Supreme Court Here Last Evening to Discuss the Matter.

Last evening Judge Marshall of our supreme court visited Janesville for the purpose of urging our citizens to do their share towards the erection of monuments to the memories of the late Chief Justice Luther S. Dixon, and the late Chief Justice Edward G. Ryan. Judge Dixon is buried at the Madison cemetery in a lot which contains the graves of his family. This lot is without marble or record of any kind, except one little marker to designate the grave of his infant son. Judge Ryan's lot in a Milwaukee cemetery is entirely bare, without record of any kind to him or any member of his family. The opinions and decisions of these two great jurists, as written in our reports, form a very important part of the established law of this country. For many years these able men worked faithfully and fearlessly in the most important branch of public service. They died poor, they should not be forgotten.

In the plan which Judge Marshall proposed each county of the state has been requested to do its proper part towards the erection of a suitable monument for each judge. The share of our county is $45.00. While it is expected that the bar of the state will furnish most of the required funds, yet we were glad to learn last night that a good number of the well to do men and women of the state have readily and cheerfully contributed to this good cause.

Acting upon Judge Marshall's suggestion Hon. Philip Norcross and State Senator John M. Whitehead will on Saturday take up the subscription in Janesville.

TALK BASEBALL FOR THE COMING SUMMER
Plans Suggested for Sunday League in Southern Part of State Which Will Include Janesville.

With the approach of spring the baseball fever has broken out again in southern Wisconsin and a league has been proposed for Sunday baseball. According to a dispatch in a Milwaukee paper, Ft. Atkinson is ready to start the formation of a league for Sunday games and the cities mentioned as possible members are Madison, Ft. Atkinson, Sullivan, Wausau, Watertown and Janesville. All these cities are on the North-western road and could be easily reached by the visiting teams.

"Jack" Ward, who has been one of the leaders in the local game and with George Casey managed the Janesville team last summer and for the fall games, states that Janesville will have a team this summer, but that the great trouble is to get games. "The idea of a league composed of the cities mentioned has thought would prove successful and while nothing definite has been heard of the matter he would be glad to co-operate with other managers to make it possible.

It is probable that the Commercial League of the city will also be re-organized for the Saturday half holiday games. Last year the teams which were members of the association were from the Wisconsin Carriage company, the Y. M. C. A., Parker Pen company, Lewis Knitting company, Janesville Printing company, the Janesville Machine company. Much interest was shown in the series which were played on Saturdays from May until September.

A meeting of the managers of last year's teams will be held in the immediate future when plans for the re-organization of the league will take place. Last year's president, P. E. Hertz, having left the city, it has been suggested that the president of the league be a business man not interested in any of the business houses represented.

NEW FEATURE ADDED FOR THE CHILDREN
The Gazette Will Present the Tickle-mouse Adventures of David and Dorley.

On Saturday next will appear the first adventure of David and Dorley and their own faithful friend, the Tickle-mouse. In the Gazette, these little stories for children will continue three times a week and are far more interesting than ever was Alice in Wonderland, Davy and the Goblin, and lots more of the children stories. David and Dorley are twins and they Rutherford Bailey has taken them through many adventures that are both delightful and charming. All in the land of dreams, of course, but so interesting that the oldest members of the household will be glad to read them aloud to the family circle. "The Starving Snowman" is the first tale and every little boy and girl reader of the Gazette, even if they only look at the funny pictures, must wait for the Saturday paper to find how that snowman is fed by the Tickle-mouse and his little friends. The Tickle-mouse is one of those charming little creatures that will creep into the hearts of every mother and child who enjoy a tale at bedtime, and the strange happenings, the funny things that happen to the twins will be read with interest.

HEALTH LAWS ARE GAINING IN FAVOR
Popular Statutes Easily Enforced, Says Anti-Tuberculosis Association.

The committee on legislation and law enforcement of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association is gathering from all parts of the United States and adjoining provinces every law bearing on the world-wide crusade against consumption, for the benefit of town and village boards, common councils, the legislature and organizations and individuals interested in the work. Dr. Charles McCarthy, head of the legislative reference library, Madison, is compiling a bulletin covering these laws and it will be given wide circulation by the association with the assistance and guidance of everyone interested.

"More important than any-making is enforcement of existing laws," said Dr. C. A. Harper, secretary state board of health and chairman of the committee. "We are ascertaining methods pursued in various states. More can be gained by rigidly enforcing the laws now on our statute books than by creation of new ones. We feel that a popular law on sanitation is easily enforced. The people who understand it will not allow back the authorities, but will themselves assist in its enforcement for self-preservation."

The work of the legislative committee means close co-operation with the educational movement, which up to this time has chiefly characterized the work of the state association, and proves the wisdom of correlating all forces working for one end—wiping consumption out of Wisconsin.

The association stands ready to give any assistance in its power in getting appropriations for local hospitals and sanatoriums and will send representatives to work with local interest forces when this is necessary and desirable.

Dr. McCarthy is rushing work on the legislative bulletin with all possible haste. He is one of the best known legislative reference librarians in the United States, and a pioneer in this field.
